To Whom it may concern

We are writing this note to express our complete satisfaction with the efforts of Brian Schindler in selling our home in North York. Brian is a key member of the Paul Zammit Real Estate Team. At his first meeting with me and Galila, he came very well prepared. A report of painstaking precision detailed the market we could anticipate. That market research up front convinced us that we were making the right choice in selecting Brian Schindler to represent our needs.

Neither of us had encountered this degree of exhaustive analysis in a proposal to sell a house. That thoroughness has been a keynote of Brian Schindler's approach to serving our needs, every step of the way.

Brian has shown his true colours in this service industry by working tirelessly, giving us unparalleled personal attention. At key moments in the process, Brian's insights were instrumental in guiding our choices. We feel that Brian Schindler has done his job superbly, exceeding our loftiest expectations.

Brian Schindler is knowledgeable but never pushy. This is an excellent but rare combination. In sum, we highly recommend Brian Schindler for his personalized approach and depth of knowledge in this field.
